

I am against the new broadcast flag proposal. It will forever close of the ability of the common man to control his own destiny with respect to broadcasting. Think what the internet would be if only big corporations could participate. No novel startups like eBay, Google and Yahoo would have had a chance to grow.